

Frontiers in Blockchain

Call For Papers: Blockchain for Social Innovations in Agriculture, Fisheries and Livelihood Development

The Special Issue on Blockchain for Land, Social Innovations in Agriculture, and Sustainable Livelihood Development is looking for papers that assess the application, use, and potential impact of blockchain technology to support social innovation in agricultural activities. Papers that analyze the potential governance implications of blockchain innovations within agriculture and propose suggestions for taking power relations into account are also welcomed.

Abstracts are due by March 19th, 2022.

For further details, please see the full call:

https://www.frontiersin.org/research-topics/31656/blockchain-for-social-innovations-in-agriculture-fisheries-and-livelihood-development?utm_source=F-RTM&utm_medium=TED1&utm_campaign=PRD_TED1_T1_RT-TITLE

