

Colloquium in Climatology, Climate Impact and Remote Sensing

Spring Semester 2019

Wednesdays, 14:15, seminar room 124, Mittelstrasse 43, 3012 Bern

- | | |
|--------|---|
| Feb 27 | Natália Machado Crespo (University of São Paulo)
Cyclones over South America |
| Mar 6 | Jim Freer (University of Bristol)
Can we develop nationally applied hydrological models to provide effective evidence for answering a range of important societal concerns? |
| Mar 13 | Alexandre Ramos (University of Lisbon)
Atmospheric rivers research in the Atlantic Ocean |
| Mar 20 | Fernando Jaume Santero (Complutense University of Madrid)
Selection of Climatically Representative Locations using Evolutionary Algorithms |
| Mar 27 | Veronika Valler (University of Bern)
TBA |
| Apr 3 | Kai Kornhuber (University of Oxford)
TBA |
| Apr 17 | Iñaki Garcia-De-Cortazar-Atauri (INRA)
TBA |
| May 1 | Markus Stoffel (University of Geneva)
Melting ice – crumbling mountains? Reconstructing changes in mass-movement activity in the Swiss Alps |
| May 8 | Markus Kalberer (University of Basel)
TBA |
| May 15 | Willy Tinner (University of Bern)
TBA |
| May 22 | Sonia Seneviratne (ETHZ)
Projecting changes in impacts at 1.5°C vs 2°C global warming: The role of land processes |
| May 29 | Johanna Ziegel (University of Bern)
Isotonic Distributional Regression (IDR): A powerful nonparametric calibration technique |